TODAY'S ARTISTS

NORA SHULMAN has been the Associate Principal flute of The Toronto Symphony since 1974. At the beginning of this season she assumed the responsibilities as Acting Principal flute.

Miss Shulman began her music lessons with Louise De Tullio and later studied with Luella Howard, Sheridan Stokes, Doriot Anthony Dwyer, Albert Tipton, Marcel Moyse and William Bennett, graduating from California State University at Northridge with a BA magna cum laude in music.

She has been an Associate Fellow at the Berkshire Music Center, Tanglewood; Co-Principal flute of the Aspen Chamber Symphony at the Aspen Music Festival; and for two years she held the post of second flute with the Denver Symphony Orchestra. Since her move to Toronto she has been featured as soloist with The Toronto Symphony, the Chamber Players of Toronto, the CJRT Orchestra and with orchestras throughout Ontario, as well as on the CBC Radio network in solo and chamber works. In previous years, Miss Shulman taught at the Rome Festival in Italy, and at present she teaches at the Faculty of Music, University of Toronto.

Pianist KATHLEEN SOLOSE began her studies in Toronto. After being awarded the Ravel Medal of the University of Toronto at the age of fifteen, and taping her first recitals for CBC radio, she went on to work with Adele Marcus at the Juilliard School where she received a Master's degree in music. She subsequently studied in Italy with Guido Agosti and Carlo Zecchi.

In 1974 she was unanimously voted first-prize winner in the Casagrande International Competition, resulting in extensive engagements in Italy, Bulgaria, and for the Swiss Radio. On invitation from Stanislav Neuhaus, Miss Solose was accepted as a young Canadian artist under the Canada/U.S.S.R. Cultural Exchange agreement, sponsored by the Canada Council.

Miss Solose presently pursues an active career as soloist and chamber musician.

VIRGINIA MARKSON began her solo career as a guest of the Detroit Symphony at the age of fourteen. Following studies with Albert Pellerite, Principal flute of the Detroit Symphony, Miss Markson went to Paris where she studied with Jean-Pierre Rampal.

In Toronto, Miss Markson has performed frequently as soloist with the CBC, the University of Toronto Woodwind Quintet, the York Winds and Trio Toronto. She is currently the Acting Associate Principal flute of the Toronto Symphony, and has played with the Canadian Opera Company, the National Ballet of Canada, the Hamilton Philharmonic and the CJRT and CBC Festival Orchestras.

Miss Markson leads an active life as teacher, concert performer and studio musician.
